ABOUT THE ARTIST

After being classically trained in the Conservatorium of Classical Music at Chihuahua, Mexico Neto mastered the art of songwriting, before reaching success in the progressive scene. He tried to form several metal bands but none of them reached any success. Soon after he started to compose trance music, everything changed. Bringing influences from all the different styles he studied before, and all the experience he acquired playing live instruments, Neto was now able to create the new synthetic future prog signature sound he's known for.
